PT-1230PC

Compact, elegant and easy to use

As the label design software is stored inside the labelling machine, whenever you connect the USB cable to your PC, simply click on the pop-up message to launch the software. This ensures that corporate PCs with restrictions on installing programs can even run the software, whenever required.

PT-1230PC has a compact design, fits perfectly at the side of your monitor; powered from standard batteries or an AC adapter. Create personalised, durable labels whenever and wherever they are required.
